stiliude of Grozco toward the administration at the moment through lack of means of communication, president Madero says the revolutionary situation throughout the republic, with the exception of Chihuahna, has shown improvement since a week ago. "Conditions are better in the region of the Kams river in Durango and in the rest of the republic, except Chihuahna, where the situation is more delicate, owing to the fall of Juarez," said the chief executive. "Occurrences in Chihuahna, Durango and the region of the Nazas were unaxpected and for that reason took great proportions apparently before the government could send sufficient elements of war, particularly in view of the sudden interruption of communication.

"Now that the government is pushing the operations, however, with the intention of sending more troops into the thester of events, the government is sure that within a relatively short time it will succeed in dominating the situation completely."

AMERICANS WARNED BY THE PRESIDENT

Must Be Careful in Mexico and Ready to Quit on Short Notice .

Washington, D. C., March 2.—At a cabinet conference today it was deemed expedient that president Taft issue a proclamation urging citizens of the United States to comply strictly with the neutrality laws in all matters affecting Mexico.

In effect, the proclamation is a warning to Americans to stay out of Mexico. A note will be sent to American ambassador Wilson, at the City of Mexico, directing him to inform Americans located in Mexico to watch conditions closely and if the situation grows alarming to quit the situation grows alarming to quit the country.

The conference was attended by president Taft, secretary Stimson, acting secretary of state Huntington Wilson, secretary Nagel and postmaster general Hitchoock.

Reports received at the state depart-Reports received at the state department today were meagre and consisted only of confirmatory advices on press reports telling of the killing of 40 revolutionists at Torreon by the federals. Quiet is said to continue at Ensemada and the situation at Veracruz seems unchanged.

Leage Protests.

Senator Lodge of Mansachusette said at the white house today that the situation in Mexico was about as bad as it could possibly be.

Our interests in Mexico continue to protest against conditions there," said Mr. Lodge.

blooded Durham cattle to stock the San Domingo ranch, but on account of the disurbances in Mexico ha is holding these at the local stockyards until further developments.

The San Domingo ranch covers 420,000 acres of land, all of which Mr. Fuller is having fenced. As 50,000 acres of the land is under irrigation, this section will be cross fanced off and put under cultivation. Mr. Fuller expects to continue the farming part of his ranch without paying any attention to the Mexican disturbances, but does not wish to risk taking the cattle there at present.

JUAREZ PORT "CLOSED." Again it is reiterated by the Mexican consul. The Justex port is closed and snything sont there is smuggled. But lots of stuff continues to be sent across.

MEXICAN MONEY DROPS. Mexican money is worth 49 cents per at the local banks. The money is a lit-tile below par, but the low water mark of the Madero revolution which was 45 cents, has not been reached.

Villa to Replace Orozco.

It is currently reported that Vilia will succeed Gen. Pascual Orozco as chief of arms of the state. Still another rumor is prevalent that Gen. Jose la luz Soto will succeed Orozco, but efforts to authenticate these reports with the governor failed.

Telegraphic communication with the south extends as far as Parral, where the istuation is quiet at present. The total garrison in the latter city is estimated at 356 which includes 106 federal troops and 100 state rurales under Gen. Jose de la lux Soto.

The Inde district is said to be swarming with rebels and that they have taken the town, Guanacevi, in the state of Durango, is reported to have fallen into the hands of the rebels.

Chihushus is at present garrisoned by over 400 rurales. The city is patroled each night. Travelers reaching the city from points outside have been held up by prowling hands of marauders and their valuables taken from them, but otherwise they were unharmed.

from them, but otherwise they were unharmed.

The mines in the camps adjacent to the city are still working. The Chihuahua smelter can operate for another month with the present supply of fuel. The San Toy mine, one of the largest properties in the Santa Eulalia district, has three weeks supply of fuel on hand. The average fuel supply on hand with the mines is about three weeks. If the communication by rail is not restored by that time, all will close.

Grozco's Retirement Definite.

Gen. Pascual Orozco has followed his resignation announcement of several weeks ago by issuing another statement to the press in which he says that nothing can tempt him to accept another political office and that he is through with politics for good and wants to be left alone to pursue his mining business.

In a reply to the question asked by a local newspaper if he would assume command of a body of troops to protect the city from looters he replied that he would take up arms but as a private only. Following this answer he said:
